

Lance Rants on the Justice Department's Slowness to Protect the American People

Some say we have Truth, Justice and the American way in the USA, and it sounds all well and good but is it the truth that we have justice in America and is the "Way" becoming more of a political correctness bathed in over lawyering and wishful thinking courts?

I believe that the Justice Department is doing a piss poor job in getting to the bottom of these terrorist networks and I am concerned for the safety of the American People. Basically they suck and they know it, but hide behind the bureaucracy and buck pass.

Meanwhile they harass normal Americans to no end. If the Justice Department is so utterly incompetent and acting like such PR whores? May I ask who needs you? You suck and you know it, incompetence abounds and you are afraid to admit it, as you let International Terrorists slide thru the cracks and screw over Americans? If this is the best you can do, it is obvious that there is no Justice in the United States. So lets stop kidding ourselves and save some taxpayers money and axe this budget.

Perhaps I merely see more and observe more than the average American. But during some of these Terrorist Trials we have defendants yelling in court they want to kill Americans then stating they did not get a fair trial from their public pretender? Well that is interesting as the gentleman admitted guilt and thus the trial should end not go on for weeks proving a given for PR sake and media sound bytes. What a silly way to do things? And what does any of this have to do with protecting the American People. A $.22 solution should work just fine. Consider all this in 2006. Lance Winslow - Online Think Tank forum board.
